Stomping Out the Flames for CRPS at Manassas Mall

Manassas, VA. – Join Manassas Mall in leaving a lasting orange effect while Stomping out the Flames of Complex Regional Pain Syndrome (CRPS). Teams from around Prince William County will be walking to spread awareness and raise money to help find a cure for CRPS. Put on your walking shoes and come dressed in your finest orange, the more the better!

The walk will be held May 20th, from 1pm-3pm in the At Home Court in Manassas Mall. There will be face painting for the little ones, music, prizes, and more! Remember you can't raise awareness if you're not seen or heard!

The exact cause of Complex Regional Pain Syndrome (CRPS) isn't well understood but may involve abnormal inflammation or nerve dysfunction. Complex regional pain is characterized by pain that is greater than would be expected from the injury that causes it. Come meet other adults affected by this debilitating disease, while learning more on how to deal with the pain and where to get more medical information.
